Ten Cents

The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

Anxious Reader:

Your letter offers an interesting idea. But this country wouldn't gain by swapping H. R. Haldeman and John D. Ehrlichman for Russia's Khrushchev and Molotov.

If we just wanted to swap bums for bums it might come out all right but we'd end up with some over-age types for our youngish, imaginative ones. Khrushchev can hardly pound a shoe any more and Molotov peaked when his name was given the "cocktail."

But the idea needs watching. Last year they got our wheat; this year it was credit via Most Favored Nation agreement, and next year it could be an American Social Security Card for every Russian citizen. Of course Russia would supply the cards. We'd only supply the SS payments.

Farewell to OJT

What started as revenue sharing is becoming a "dump some of the programs" project.

It is bureaucracy in its simplest — and most vicious — form. It is a sort of "no fault Watergate" — that grinding upheaval accompanied by gnashing of teeth and groaning — a process by which government purges itself at odd times.

Revenue sharing is going to lop off a lot of programs. Some good; others atrocious. Good or bad, most spending programs that will be cut off will surface again in a few months under new names, new employees and a new tax supported funding plan.

They're playing the old "hide the paywindow trick!" By shuffling the paywindow from one authority to another, some agencies run out of money to pay light, heat, rent and wages. The agency has no choice but to lock its doors and separate its personnel. But have no fear. Programs will show up again because funds budgeted will not go back into the general fund.

The title and personnel, and even the thrust of the project may be changed but the funds will still be recognizable by the blood, sweat and tears on it. It'll be the drippings of the disconsolate taxpayer — yours and mine.

One of the better operations destined to go down the tubes this week is the On-the-Job-Training program sponsored by the Mayor's Committee for Jobs and the Department of Labor. OJT is but one of the myriad Community Manpower Agency's units of the Human Resources Development Program, but it is one of the best. Others include the PEP (Public Employment Program) programs of the City and County; MAAC (Mexican American Advisory Committee); SER (Service Employment Redevelopment); ROP (Regional Occupational Program) and the Restaurant Consortium and the Auto Consortium.

But OJT is something special. Its operation is simple. Under the direction of hardworking, earnest Fred Rathman, it did a better job of putting people back into the work force than any we have known.

With a staff totaling five, Rathman and his group carefully screened applicants. Through a program of good public relations, an honest and trusting relationship was built among San Diego employers. OJT signed contracts when applicants were placed. OJT agreed to pay to the employer an amount equal to fifty percent of the applicant's wages for training the employee. Training wage ranged from $2.20-$4.00 an hour with OJT paying half.

OJT trainees achieved a fantastic 71 per cent retention rate in spite of the fact that 75 per cent of the total were classified "disadvantaged" and one out of four came from welfare existence.

While other agencies were costing taxpayers $1,200 to get a human back into the labor force, Rathman and crew were doing it for less than $650. This did not include more than 500 job placements OJT made without paying for training. And in its 7 1/2 years of operation here, OJT made more than 6,000 families happier because a family member was put on a payroll.

But now the five OJT people are looking for jobs for themselves! That's a switch. OJT was told that Revenue Sharing Funds might or might not be available through the State bureaucratic maze known as Sacramento. Following strictly the bureaucratic characteristic of controlling all but knowing nothing, Human Resources says Sacramento may have funds available in October or sometime. That's just another way of telling OJT and others to close it up.

So the staff and a few friends will meet in the OJT office at 5433 Linda Vista rd. (2A) Thursday to share a handshake and maybe shed a tear. Desks, chairs and other equipment, rented 7 1/2 years ago, will go back to the owner on Friday.

There'll be a lot of talk. Some of it certainly will be of the successes OJT has known. Of the Mexican-Americans they had to get into a local school to learn English so he could be employed. He's still working.

Of the Black man who OJT got into Langley Corp as a trainee. Now he's a supervisor.

And the elderly woman, well over 50, the hardest of all categories to find a training post, still at Control Data.

A young male with a history of problems who is now a permanent fixture at Gavett Wire as a cable winder making better than $3 an hour.

They'll also discuss negative qualities of a bureaucratic government. The lack of communication from the agency above; the uncertainty at the top as to who they are supposed to fund; of matters that are real and vital to a person unemployed being tied up in a package of red tape; of easy decisions complicated by politics, and of comprehension at all levels.

They'll recall how programs were stopped dead when people at higher echelons took days off or vacations with requests for information and action locked in their desks.

To the citizen who has been frustrated in his contact with agencies, let it be known for what little joy it produces that if people-to-agency communication is terrible, agency-to-agency communication is impossible.

The higher agencies may never know, unless they read this, that they are losing a human recruitment staff with tremendous energy and expertise when OJT locks its doors Friday. They may one day discover the heartsickness and frustration of begging a higher agency for decisions and getting only silence because that may be the day when they, too, are being phased out.

And that day can't come too soon for us.

Runge Gets New Four-Year Contract

In a vote of confidence in fiscal year, pending further school district administrative salary study and budgetary computations. The resolution Valley School District Board of Education took action at its last meeting to grant Superintendent James R. Runge a new four-year contract even though his current four-year contract has two years remaining.

Runge came to the school district as Superintendent in July of 1971 following the retirement of Glenn E. Murdock who had held the key post for twenty-four years.

The new four-year contract will be fulfilled under the same terms and conditions as the existing contract and will become effective July 1.

In other action, the Board proposed one of its own members, the Rev. Arne Christianson, as a candidate for election to the Delegate Assembly of the California School Boards Association. San Diego County is permitted ten delegate appointments to the Assembly, which is the primary policy-making body of the State organization.

Rev. Christianson has served on the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District Board of Education since 1966 as president and as a member.

In salary action, the Board members passed a resolution establishing interim 1973-74 salary schedules for both classified and certificated employees in the school district, to be effected at the end of this year.

Development Stirs Protest

SAN DIEGO (CNA)—Strong community opposition to a planned residential development in the Murray Hill area of Lemon Grove was registered Friday before the county planning commission.

When the applicant, Dass Construction Company, revealed plans and construction methods, the planning department indicated a recommendation of denial might be changed.

David Joseph, representing the applicant, said that 89 condominium units are now planned on 13.78 acres.

The 140-seat hearing room was two-thirds occupied with persons in opposition and a number of persons were heard. The commission was also given a petition in opposition signed by almost 300 persons.

The complaints were that there would be increased traffic danger, more rainfall runoff, the design of the buildings, and the possibility of overloading the school systems.

The commission agreed to a continuance so that the new plan can be submitted and studied by the department.

Burglars Take Cash, Checks

Marders Stationers was the victim of a daring daylight burglary last week in which two male Negroes escaped with over $1,300 in cash and checks.

According to reports from the Sheriff's Department, the two men entered the store at about 2 p.m. last Thursday, and one of them asked the clerk for a telephone book.

While that suspect continued to detain the clerk, the other apparently slipped into a back room where money was kept and pocketed the loot, consisting of $102 in cash and $1,250 in checks.

The first man was described as about 23 years old, standing 5-11, weighing 165 pounds, wearing light pants and a pink shirt, a dark complexion, and medium length hair. The other was described as 25, 5-9, and stocky.

Citizen's Advisory Committee In Lemon Grove Incorporation Try

Daley Submits Lone Bid On LG Project

Daley Corporation of San Diego submitted the only bid on a project calling for the construction of the Lemon Grove ave. interchange on Route 94 in the La Mesa-Lemon Grove area. The bid was $1,762,168.

Jacob Dekema, District Engineer, said the full interchange will provide central freeway access to the heart of Lemon Grove. Sidewalks will be constructed on the bridge over Route 94 to replace the existing pedestrian overcrossing, Dekema said. The project work limits are from about a half mile east of Massachusetts ave. to Grove st.

The bid is now under consideration by the Director of Public Works.

SV Chamber Gets Anti-Litter Award

Awards winners in the Fire Safety Anti-Litter contest sponsored by the San Diego Chamber of Commerce and the San Diego City and County War Against Litter Committee were announced last week at a luncheon in the Gold Room of the Hanaalei Hotel.

The Spring Valley Chamber of Commerce earned a runner up award for its annual Spring Valley Beautiful campaign.

Public Swimming Programs Safer Than Hazardous Hansen's Pond

With the end of school for most Spring Valley and Lemon Grove youngsters, thoughts turn to ways of cooling off under the hot summer sun.

It was thoughts like those that led to the tragic deaths of eight-year old Kenneth Rainey and 14-year old Ruth Ann Arters last summer, victims of the attraction of Hansen's Pond.

The popular swimming hole has been the scene of many drownings in past years, but hopes are being raised that the trend will be toward less use of the restricted pond as more local swimming pools are built.

Construction has been completed on the Helix High School Pool, the La Mesa Municipal Pool is being operated, and the Grossmont High School District operates Gunther Pool in Santee; all are open for public swimming.

Broadway Land Use Plans to be Presented

The Lemon Grove Planning Association will meet this afternoon at 3 p.m. to consider three alternate plans for land use along Broadway in the town.

The plans will be presented by the county. If one of the plans is approved by the association, it will eventually be formulated into a community plan.

All three plans encourage entrance treatments, calling for landscaping, sign control, and traffic control at the main entrances to Broadway.

Other highlights of some of the plans include parking areas in the business sections, and a heli-port to be located near Broadway and Kempf.

One plan stresses industrial possibilities, another residential usage, and the third goes along with existing trends.

The meeting, at Golden Avenue Elementary School, is open to the public.

Brown Says Economic Study First Step

A move to incorporate Lemon Grove, similar to an attempt that failed ten years ago, has been re-kindled by the Lemon Grove Citizen's Advisory Committee.

Second District Supervisor Dick Brown appeared before the group last week and answered questions about incorporation, discussed alternatives, and explained procedures.

The first thing that is necessary, Brown said, is to make an economic study to determine if the town can afford incorporation. "Cities are designed specifically for providing urban services, counties are not," Brown said. "Lemon Grove is an urban area and it is quite appropriate that they become a city or part of a city, but they have to be sure they can afford to do it economically."

Brown indicated that his office will assist the Citizen's Advisory Committee in the study. It is expected that area banks may also donate their services in the study, which would cost about $5,000.

Arguments in favor of incorporation include control of government and better services. Arguments against it include fear of higher taxes.

Brown said that the threat of higher taxes may not be a valid argument, but added that the economic study would shed some light in that area.

Kahan Acquitted In Marijuana Smuggling Trial

Helix High School teacher Charles Kahan was freed last week of five charges connected with an alleged marijuana smuggling attempt in Arizona.

US District Court Judge Walter Craig, sitting in Prescott, Arizona, granted a motion for acquittal made by Kahan's attorney, Howard Frank of San Diego, after final arguments in the case were heard Thursday afternoon.

Kahan, 40-year old son of a Lemon Grove delicatessen operator, went on trial in April of last year in Arizona on local charges, but the case was dismissed when prosecution officials declined to name an informant.

Federal charges were brought against the English teacher-football coach in November of last year, leading to last week's trial.

Kahan was arrested by local authorities in Arizona while he was riding in a pickup truck which carried 1,000 pounds of marijuana. He was absent from his teaching duties at the time, having called in sick.

He was suspended from his position with the district, but was re-instated and awarded three months' back pay when the charges were dismissed.

After federal charges were brought against him last November, he was again suspended.

Local Report On Conference Set Friday

The local report from the Third National Baha'i Youth Conference will be held in Lemon Grove, hostessed by Mrs. Onolee Rushing in her home Friday, at 8 p.m.

Miss Rouse is an accomplished member of the community, working as a school psychologist in Lakeside after obtaining her B.A. and M.A. at Long Beach State College. She is now a candidate for her Ph.D. at U.S.I.U.

Mrs. Rushing said that "This will be the largest gathering of Baha'i youth ever held in the United States with the purpose of the conference being to remake the character of society and to prepare the young people for the work they will undertake later in their lives. It will help foster a deeper sense of community among Baha'i young people."

Learn Spanish The Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

By James Hardison

"Pedir" is the infinitive form to ask. (She asks for her ticket of the Spanish verb which to ask.) and "usted no pide nada." means "to ask for." This verb (You do not ask for anything.) is often confused with "preguntar" which means "to ask." The basic difference is to ask in the meaning. "Pedir" is used when one wishes "to ask for" services, goods, or money. "Preguntar" is used "to ask" a question.

"Pido" is the first person form. It is used in sentences like "Yo pido perdón." (I ask for forgiveness.), "Yo pido su ayuda." (I ask for your help.), or "Yo pido su paciencia en este asunto." (I ask for your patience in this matter).

"Pides" is a form that may be used with children or with loved ones. Thus we may say "to a child or a close friend" "Que pides?" (What are you asking for?), "No pides todo." (Don't ask for everything.), and "Tu pides mas que Los de mas." (You ask for more than the others.).

"Pide" occurs with pronouns like "el" (he), "ella" (she), and "usted" (you). This is demonstrated in the phrases "Que pide el?" (What does he ask for?), "Ella pide su bo-

Vryheid, Segawa Get 'Love Chapter' at Expo Redlands Degrees

The Love Chapter, a group of 21 musicians from First Southern Baptist Church of La Mesa, will perform at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday on the Don Diego Stage at the Southern California Exposition in Del Mar.

Two local students have been awarded degrees from the University of Redlands. Diplomas were presented to Robert E. Vryheid of Brookside and Jerry T. Segawa of Lemon Grove.

Vryheid, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Vryheid, of 3714 Fairway dr., received a bachelor of arts degree in sociology and was one of only 18 students who attained academic honors, graduating Summa Cum Laude.

Segawa, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Segawa, of 7655 San Miguel, received a bachelor of arts degree in economics and graduated with distinction.

Thirteen girls and eight boys, ranging in age from 14 to 22, comprise the Love Chapter, which specializes in gospel and patriotic songs. Nine members of the group provide instrumental accompaniment.

A very enlightening article about the activities of the Lemon Grove Library and other libraries of the area appeared in the June 14 issue of the Lemon Grove Review. It gave specific listings, with dates, of programs that are scheduled. It also very effectively showed how the libraries of today differ from those of a number of years ago.

Informing the public about something they will thoroughly enjoy is rendering a tremendous service. The library appreciates this outstanding service performed by the newspaper staff.

Dear Editor:

On behalf of the students and faculty at Lemon Grove Junior High may I express our appreciation for your support and coverage this past year.

The publicizing of our Honor Rolls and Citizenship lists was stimulating and rewarding to the students. Complimentary publicity for our outstanding teenagers is much needed.

Your story about Lemon Junior High activities in the June 14 issue of the Lemon Grove Review was especially interesting and appreciated.

We are fortunate in this community to have a publication dedicated to the positive aspects of our youth and schools.

Very truly yours, Louis Poluzzi Principal Lemon Grove Junior High School

Dear Editor:

Would you be so kind as to run a news item regarding Charles Kahan's narcotics acquittal?

I understand that he was not involved as they said to start with. I would like to see his name cleared locally if possible. I know his family felt very bad about this.

Contest Seeks Top Appliance Efforts

The Bureau of Home Appliances announced last week a contest to begin July 1 aimed at finding outstanding appliance dealers, salesmen, and servicemen in the county.

The bureau asks that customers who have had outstanding service from any appliance dealer, salesman or serviceman during the past 12 months send a letter telling about the experience to the bureau's Consumer Affairs Committee, 233 A st., suite 1007, San Diego.

Winners of the "good guy" contest will receive the first annual "CARE" Awards, to be presented at the bureau's fall conference dinner in September. CARE is an acronym for Consumer Awareness Retailer Effort.

Writers of the winning letters, which must be postmarked between July 1 and August 31, will be guests at the dinner.

ON STAGE — Jenifer Henn and H. L. Mark Dempsey portray leading roles of a divorced couple whose attraction for each other is rekindled after several years' separation in Noel Coward's most popular comedy "Private Lives," alternating performances with the musical "I Do! I Do!" at the Carter Centre Stage, adjacent to the Old Globe Theatre in Balboa Park.

Marriage Topic Of Alternating Plays At Cassius Carter Stage

Two opposite views of marriage are offered this summer at the Cassius Carter Centre Stage. The sophisticated romance of Noel Coward's "Private Lives" will be contrasted with the sentimental marriage of the musical "I Do! I Do!"

"Private Lives" opened the summer season at the Carter Stage Tuesday. On Friday, the two character musical comedy "I Do! I Do!" will be performed. Both productions will alternate performances nightly except Monday, plus Saturday and Sunday matinees throughout the summer.

Presented by the Old Globe Theatre in the adjacent Carter Centre Stage in Balboa Park, theatre producing director Craig Noel has directed both "Private Lives" and "I Do! I Do!"

"Private Lives" is recognized as the finest comedy created by Noel Coward. The author of such famous plays as "Hay Fever," "Blithe Spirit," "Design for Living" and "Tonight at 8:30," Coward himself was also an actor, dancer, composer, producer and director. He was recognized as one of the most successful and popular playwrights of the twentieth century before his death in March of this year.

Set in the south of France in the mid-1930's, "Private Lives" is based on a sophisticated divorced couple who met again after several years. As each is on his second honeymoon, the formerly married couple discover their hotel suites adjoin one another. The cause of their divorce was their constant arguing, but when they meet again their long smoldering attraction for each other is rekindled.

Impulsively they decide to abandon their new mates and run away together to Paris to renew their earlier happiness. However, their verbal battles begin anew. Leading roles in "Private Lives" will be played by H. L. Mark Dempsey and Jenifer Henn.

Cub Scout Adventures Top Summer

Cub Scout fun and adventure carry through the summer in most Cub Scout packs in this area, and they will earn the National Summertime Pack Award for their trips, picnics, and outings.

Each pack encourages its family-centered program by planning special summer activities around a monthly theme such as Flags of America, Cub Scout Chefs, and County Fair, according to Dr. George W. Stiehl, Activities Chairman of the San Diego County Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Stiehl said that the packs also may feature hikes, ball games, field meets, athletic events, visits to recreational areas, or activities related to swimming, fishing, and boating.

"These boys, who are 8, 9, and 10, have the most free time in the summer and have the greatest need for Cub Scouting," Stiehl said. "And we find they're not all away on vacation at the same time."

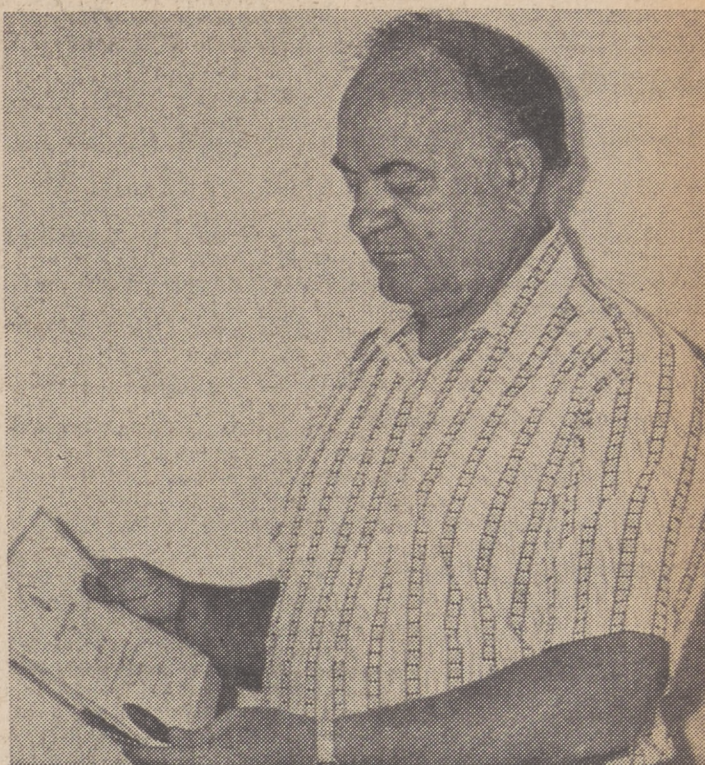

A Cub Scout in a pack that has earned the summertime pack award now also may be recognized with his own distinctive, gold-toned metal pin which is worn on the Cub Scout uniform shirt.

Packs qualify for the National Summertime Pack Award if they conduct three pack activities — one each during June, July, and August. Dens are eligible for den participation ribbons if they average at least 50 percent or more of their members at three summertime pack activities.

Firm Gets Contracts

Cubic Corporation announced recently its subsidiary company, U. S. Elevator Corporation, has been awarded seven elevator contracts totaling $2,885,000.

U. S. Elevator, located in Spring Valley, was awarded the contracts calling for over 70 elevators.

AWARD — Joseph P. Giacinto, who was in Lemon Grove recently to visit his brother, Sal, has received awards and lectured in several states in connection with his work in prosthetics. Giacinto has developed two devices to aid in the comfort of amputees. One is a silicone gel device which acts as a shock absorber, and the other is a suspension sleeve which reduces irritation for those wearing artificial limbs.

Construction Gets Underway

The official groundbreaking for Chaparral High School, the Grossmont District's new Continuation High School, was last Thursday, at the site at Cuyamaca and Reuben Fleet rd. in Santee.

On hand to turn the symbolic first shovel of dirt was governing board president Palmer Svalstad, district superintendent Austin Sillery, director of continuation Ace Hoberg, and Frank Cole, principal of the new school.

The new site was acquired by the District in September, 1971, at a purchase price of $130,000. The new facility was designed by El Cajon architect Arthur Decker. The bid was awarded to Clancy Construction Co. of Lemon Grove, for a total contract price of $1,091,534.50.

The new facility will be paid for over a five-year period on a Lease-Purchase contract, utilizing a special tax rate authorized by the State for such projects.

Dividend Declared

The board of directors of San Diego Gas & Electric Company declared a quarterly dividend of 30 cents per share on the company's common stock, payable July 15 to shareholders of record June 30.

The dividend is the same as for last quarter.

What have we got that brand X doesn't?

Well...uh...er...
This question always puts us in an awkward position.
Truth is, on the surface all us federal savings and loan associations are very much alike.
No matter what anyone says.
We think it's time someone told you. So here we are. Telling you.
Not for entirely unselfish reasons, you understand.
You see, we think once you realize that we all pay the same interest, offer the same free services, and charge the same interest on a loan, you'll take a little closer look at the savings and loan you choose.
And we score quite well in the close looks department.

Our philosophy of life. (Briefly.)
We want you for a customer because you like the way we operate.
Not because we enticed you through our doors by offering free trinkets.
So we swore off the give-away business long ago.
We figured what you'd really appreciate was a down-to-earth, genuinely helpful approach.
You'd like to know specific differences between a bank and a savings and loan. (How a bank might even be better for some of your needs.) How to put us to work for you. How our real estate loans work.
So those are the kinds of things we ran ads about. And those are the kinds of things we're always ready to sit down and talk about with you.

And, we're pleased to say, lots of you seemed to agree with us. We know, because you came in and told us so.
Now that we've said our piece, we'd naturally love to have you for a customer.
And so, of course, would all the Brand X's.
What we've done is lay our cards on the table, and leave the decision up to you.
And that's the way we do business. Every single day.

Survey Due In This Area

A sample of homeowners in this area will be among the approximate 9,000 nationwide included in a home improvement survey to be conducted the first two weeks of July by the Bureau of the Census, according to C. Michael Long, Director of the Bureau's Data Collection Center in Los Angeles.

Questions will have to do with expenditures for alterations, additions, and repairs to the home made during the preceding three months.

The survey has been taken quarterly since 1960 and provides up-to-date information about the housing situation needed by business and government for decision making.

Information supplied by individuals participating in the survey is confidential by law and is published only as part of statistical totals in which no one can be identified.

HIGH RIDERS — The ferris wheel, as much a part of fairs as cotton candy and dairy cows, is ridden by Spring Valley's Mrs. Marilyn Rogers and her son, Gary, 5, at the Southern California Exposition's Fun Zone. Expo runs through July 4.

Mrs. Hitchcock 'Packs 'Em In'

After twelve years at the Fair and more than a quarter of a century of puppeteering, Marie Hitchcock, San Diego's official Puppet Lady, still packs them in at the Southern California Exposition.

Her show in Exhibit Hall at 3:30 p.m. daily attracts standing-room only crowds who do not seem to mind the mild message interwoven with the entertainment. It asks viewers to stop the animal population explosion and reminds toddlers that animals are not toys. The work has not made water tune.

Racers to Give Safety Award at Orange Raceway

Prior to the first round of eliminations during the Nitromethane Championships at Orange County International Raceway Saturday, the Mike Sorokin Safety and Research Foundation will announce its selection of the Most Outstanding Top Fuel Driver of the Year.

Nominees this year include Tommy Ivo, Tom McEwen, Don Moody, Jerry Ruth and James Warren. Past winners have been Don Prudhomme 1968, John Mulligan 1969, John Wiebe 1970, Don Garlits 1971, and Carl Olson 1972.

The winner is determined by the Foundation's directors on the basis of his character, his contribution to drag racing safety and his overall performance.

The Sorokin Foundation, named after the popular top fuel driver who became Orange County International Raceway's first fatality as a result of a clutch explosion in 1967, was organized specifically to reduce the hazards confronting drag racing's professional drivers.

To date the Foundation has been responsible for improved driver safety in the area of clutch explosion containment, track-side burn treatment, fire suits, on-board fire extinguishment and experimental guard-railing for rear engine cars. The financial support for the Foundation's research activities is derived from the proceeds of each year's Nitromethane Championships. OCI Raceway has thus far contributed $15,000 to the Sorokin Foundation.

With the exception of Ivo and Ruth, all the nominees for this year's award are entered in the June 30, Championship.

In addition to a 16 car field of top fuel dragsters, this year's Nitro Championships will include identically sized fields of both supercharged and injected funny cars.

LANDMARK — The Broadway X, one of Lemon Grove's oldest buildings, was demolished last week to make room for a four-story office complex. The building was built in the 1930's and was a going business as a bar until about two months ago, when plans for the office complex got underway. The building also housed a barber shop.

PROGRESS — It took only a few minutes to reduce the Broadway X to a pile of rubble as clearing the land, near the corner of Broadway and Massachusetts in Lemon Grove, continued. Construction of the office complex is expected to be completed in September. The new building, which will include an elevator, is being built by Don Fowler, with renting space handled by Home Finders Realty.

"Pioneers of modern painting," a series of film programs written and narrated by Sir Kenneth Clark, will be shown at the Fine Arts Gallery of San Diego, Balboa Park, during July. The series covers the life and work of artists of the 19th and 20th centuries considered pioneers of what is called modern painting.

The films will be shown in the James S. Copley Auditorium, Tuesdays at 1 p.m. The program includes: "Cezanne", July 3; "Monet", July 10; "Seurat", July 17; "Rousseau", July 24; and "Munch", July 31.

3,000 Students Attend LM-SV Summer School

The 1973 summer school program in the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District has been planned to offer more than 145 courses to students from kindergarten through seventh grade. The 3,000 students attending summer school can choose courses in subjects from algebra to woodworking, or art and camping to oceanography and typing.

Warren Hogarth, summer school director, said, "We have enough variety in our courses this summer so that every student should be able to find several offerings of interest and benefit."

Although parents must arrange for transportation in the summer, students may enroll in courses at any of the district's 21 schools, regardless of which school they attend during the regular school year.

Students are accepted in summer school classes on a first-come basis and even though some classes are full, most still have room for more pupils.

In addition to the many regular courses available, special education classes have been planned for retarded, educationally handicapped, deaf-blind, and hearing handicapped students.

Year-round schools also have summer courses called "interruptions" which last from 9 to 12 days.

Study trips are especially popular during the summer. Among the many trips planned are those to the San Diego County Fair, an overnight camping trip, Sea World, Scripps Institute of Oceanography, Torrey Pines, Silverwood Natural Wildlife Sanctuary, and the Aerospace Museum.

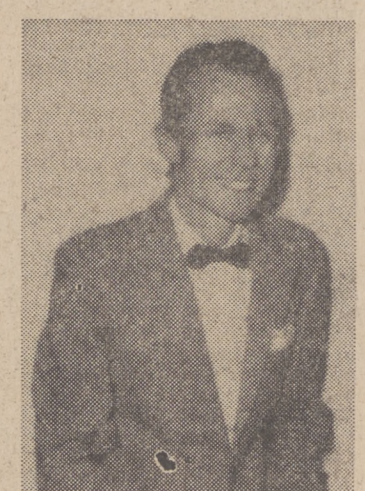

One of the activities summer students may choose is to spend five days and four nights at one of the city-county camps in the Laguna Mountains. This opportunity is open to students between the ages of eight and thirteen and is scheduled for July 30 through August 3.

More information on summer school is available at 469-6171, extension 59.

Cost of a horse carriage ride in New York's Central Park for one-half hour is $10 and $4 for each additional half hour.

Padres Loss is Peanuts

by Max Goodwin

It's little things that produce big failures. If Hitler had given a little attention to his logistics map, he wouldn't have outrun his supply and would have won WWII, his historians say.

If Muhammad Ali had indulged in a little training he would still be world champ, sportswriters say. If they hadn't priced peanuts out of the market, the Padres would not be going to Washington!

Ask any fan. He lost his ardor for the home team when the Stadium people raised the price of peanuts 40%. Conditioned by buyers' strikes on meat, little wonder he rebelled.

Imagine it! A nickel bag of peanuts selling for 35 cents — ten cents more than last year's price. Forget the increased cost of hot dogs, hamburgers and beer. Most fans are mostly peanut fans. Baseball just isn't fun without peanuts, but who can afford 'em any more?

Personally, I took the peanut pledge and swore off them when they hiked the price to 35 cents. But earlier this week, in the interest of doing research on the number of nuts to the bag, I pranced up to the concession stand just before a Padres Los Angeles game and made my "buy".

"Do you want 'em hot and stale or cold and stale?" the pretty little girl asked.

In my seat in the pressbox I carefully spread the contents of the bag on my baseball stat sheet while fending off freeloaders sportswriters who were ready to snatch a couple. I ate one as a test. "Cold and stale" I muttered.

39 Nuts

Counting the one I ate there were 39 peanuts. I piled them in one hand. It was my judgment that choice filet of mignon and peanuts cost about the same per pound. Suddenly, I had more respect for peanuts.

I shared some of them with others in the pressbox. It had been a long time since a peanut big-spenders had been there.

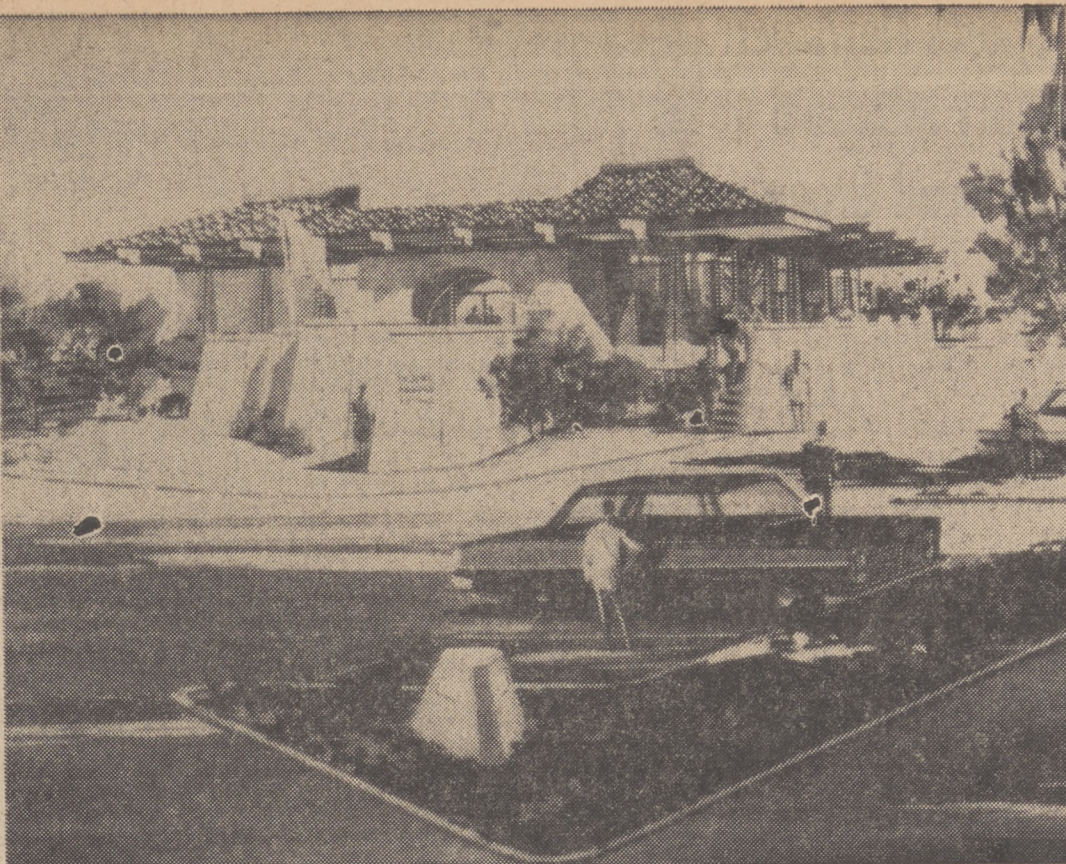

Later, I wandered down to the grandstand. I saw a family with homemade sandwiches but I didn't see anyone eating peanuts. It was then that I put it together. Much of the fun of baseball was being passed up because of the cost of peanuts. Compulsive baseball-game peanut-eaters were staying away like an AA member stays away from a bar.

I recalled my earlier days in another city where a friend and I attended games frequently. Both of us had a digestion problem caused by overeating peanuts. Before the game we would re-pledge ourselves to eating no peanuts.

About the third inning he would excuse himself to go to the men's room after asking me to stay so I could report the plays he missed. It always took him a long time. When he came back he reeked of the odor of peanuts. I would then excuse myself. The terribly pervasive smell of peanuts had triggered me. I would stop a peanut boy and buy a bag and eat them — in the men's room. The rest of the game was a combination of base hits, double plays and gastritis. But it was fun.

Does anyone need more proof that part of baseball fun comes in a peanut bag?

Are there any doubters that the Padre attendance dilemma comes with a red and white peanut bag at the San Diego Stadium?

CONSTRUCTION STARTS — Construction is scheduled to start this week of the new Casa de Oro Branch of La Jolla Federal Savings and Loan at Campo rd. and Kenwood dr. in Casa de Oro. Architect of the project is Markham, Van Leeuwen and Associates, A.I.A., of San Diego.

Condition Book Lists Del Mar's First 12 Days

Horsemen throughout the nation this week are receiving the first edition of the Del Mar condition book covering the initial 12 days of racing at the seaside course where the 43-day season begins Wednesday, July 25.

Races for a total of $826,000 in purses are listed in the book which is co-authored by Director of Racing, Louis H. Eiken, and Racing Secretary, Peter W. Tunney. Total purse distribution for the meeting is expected to exceed $3 million, a Del Mar record.

Overnight purse distribution during the opening 12 days totals $681,500 for a daily average of almost $57,000, and the 12-day total includes 13 overnight events for purses of $10,000 or more.

Entries for the opening day program will be taken Monday, July 23, with entries being accepted Friday, July 27 for the first Sunday (July 29) racing program ever offered at Del Mar. Highlight of the Sunday card will be the $25,000 added San Diego Handicap, one of seven stakes events in the first condition book offering $145,000 in added money.

Del Mar Thoroughbred Club will present 24 stakes, endowed with $670,000 in added money, during the season with one such event scheduled on each Saturday and Sunday program of the season. The $26,000 added Palomar Handicap will headline opening day competition.

Also outlined in the first condition book is the expanded Seaside Distance Series, a group of races for older horses in the $12,500, $8,000 and $5,000 claiming brackets.

Qs Home Court Still in Doubt

Where will the San Diego Conquistadors play next season?

Who will coach the team now that K. C. Jones has resigned to take a job elsewhere?

Here is the skinny from the brilliantly incisive pen of the Qs publicity director Ans Dille.

"Hope of getting into a 200,000 seat arena for any part of the next season has faded and four temporary alternate sites are being considered. They are: (1) a 4,000 seat public ice skating facility in Mira Mesa which is under construction and expected to be completed by the end of the summer. (2) a planned 4,000 to 8,000 seat skating facility proposed for Chula Vista. (3) the Community Concourse in the center of San Diego's financial district downtown. It seats approximately 3,400 with abundant off-street parking and near motels and restaurants. And (4) the Los Angeles Sports Arena 90 miles to the north of San Diego.

Jackson Whips Berg, Keeps Hold On First

Jackson Supply continued in first place in the Spring Valley Little League standings last week by whipping Berg Electric twice, knocking Berg out of a three-way tie for second place into fourth place.

On Monday, Berg looked sharp in the early innings, scoring a run in the first and another in the third to take a 2-0 lead. In the bottom of the sixth, however, Jackson put a rally together to pull out a 3-2 victory. Playing key roles in the rally were Tony Gonzales, Mike Vitale, Dennis James, and Gary Kitchell, who scored the winning run on an error.

The two teams locked horns again Friday, with Jackson taking a 9-5 victory. Mike Vitale hit his fifth home run of the season to help the winners.

The other two teams who started the week tied for second place, Moose Lodge and Letter Carriers, ended the week the same, as each team won a pair of games.

The Moose blanked Dial Finance, 7-0 on Kelly Solomon's two-hitter and John Valuzzi's two-run homer. In the second game, Moose prevailed, 9-5.

Letter Carriers, despite the antics of Tim Sundahl, swept Luigi's, 8-1 and 10-2. Sundahl spoiled Stan Salazar's shutout with a home run in the fifth inning of the first game. Salazar twirled a two-hitter. In the second game, Sundahl belted his second roundtripper of the week in a losing cause.

In the only other games of the week, Martinizing swept Kiwanis, 5-3 and 6-3. In the first game, Martinizing held a 5-0 lead going into the bottom of the last inning, when Kiwanis put together a three-run rally. In the second game, Kiwanis held a 3-1 lead, but Martinizing tallied five times the fifth inning to win it.

In the intermediate division, Heath's Texaco and Quickway Construction each won two games to remain tied for first place with 5-1 records. Highlight of the week was a three-run homer by Richard Colmenero, who helped Art's Lumber to an 8-4 victory over

Local Boxers Score Wins On Friday Night Fight Card

San Diego's classiest middleweight boxer David Love, a notoriously slow starter, almost didn't get his engine running Friday night when he defeated Marco Gerardo of Mexicali in the main go of the biweekly fight card at the Coliseum.

Gerardo, 157 pounds, poured it on Love in street-fight fashion, smothering him with continual flurries during the first six rounds, never giving Love a chance to take the initiative until the seventh.

Then Love, 155 pounds, opened up his library of fisticuffs and boxing, to give Gerardo a lesson in respect. After that, Gerardo resorted to boxing and Love proceeded to outpoint him on that basis. The decision was unanimous but it was not one of Love's best efforts.

Love is now 18-3 with 14 straight wins. Gerardo is 24-7. In the semi-main on Mickey Davies' card of three 10 rounds, Art Hafey, 126½ pounds, who claims San Diego as home, rang the chimes of Mexicali's Ricardo Garcia, 124, in 2:39 of the third round. Garcia outboxed Hafey throughout the bob-tailed session, and brought blood to Hafey's nose in the second round and splatted him on the probiscus again in the third. That did it! Hafey decked Garcia with a left that carried the sleepy-time message.

It was Hafey's 14th straight victory against a single loss. The opener was an odd affair which provided the most action of the evening. It was a lightweight fray between Julio Lopez, 140 pounds, of Mexicali and Tony Niebla, 135 pounds, of Tijuana.

It was an exciting and fairly even battle until the eighth round when Niebla's left eye was cut. In a flurry of blows to his head, Niebla dropped his hands and walked toward his corner. But referee Fred Hayes waved the men together and the fight was restarted without the knowledge or approval of Niebla since his back was turned when the signal was given. He got the signal when Lopez clobbered him with a right. The beating continued into the ninth round when the referee exercised prudence and stopped the fight.

It was the second of bi-weekly cards under Davies' promotion. An enthusiastic crowd of 2,160 was in attendance. Under the gentle persuasion of Davies, property owners in the neighborhood of the Coliseum at 15th and E have opened parking lots. Parking is a nicety missing in the operation of previous promoters.

Angels, Ned's Tie for Title

A playoff game was scheduled for Tuesday evening to decide who would wear the Sky-Grove Pony League second-half season crown and take on first-half winner Lido's this weekend for the overall title.

A tie for the second half crown resulted last week when the Angels, ahead by one game in the loss column, lost that advantage when Murphy Plumbing beat them, 5-3 on a pair of home runs by Bruce Frank and Craig Leonetti.

That left the Angels at 7-3, half a game behind Ned's Outboard, at 8-3.

The Angels tied things up again by whipping Lido's, 4-1, on Marc Foster's excellent pitching performance. He struck out 13 batters.

Ned's took the lead again by blasting Murphy, 13-1, on a grand slam by Earl Ritchey, who also handled the mound chores, striking out 15 batters. Kip Hayes added a roundtripper for the winners.

The Angels then faced a must-win situation against A-Rooter, and responded by pounding out nine runs. A-Rooter came up with a last-inning rally, scoring three runs to make it 9-8 and had a runner at third base. The Angels tightened up, however, to win the game and tie for the title.

The winner of Tuesday's single playoff game will take on Lido's in a best of three game series Saturday and Sunday. The first game will begin at 1 p.m. Saturday, followed by another game Sunday at 1 p.m. The third game, if necessary, will be played one hour after the first Sunday game.

Currently, the Zoo and Wild Animal Park entrances close at 5 p.m., and guests must leave the grounds by 6:30 p.m.

Tours of the two animal attractions—via bus at the Zoo and electric monorail at the Wild Animal Park—will operate until 6 p.m. once the summer schedule begins.

PEDALISTS' PARADISE — San Diego County Park Ranger Ken Mellor discusses bicycling at Potrero Park with a cycling enthusiast. Mellor said the park is attracting pedalers to its level paved roads winding through the meadow under ancient oaks which cast cooling shade. The 2,300-foot elevation setting is located just off Highway 94 near the Mexican town of Tecate. Mellor reports that the 32 camping sites and the more than adequate picnicking facilities feature the only San Diego County bi-lingual park ranger. Potrero is open on Fridays, Saturdays, Sundays and holiday Mondays.

Innerspace Opens College Grove Store

Innerspace has opened a new store in College Grove Shopping Center. The store, the thirty-second of its kind in California, carries Innerspace flotation beds, form fitting furniture, and various relaxing or sleep inducing devices.

According to Jason Maxwell, the store manager, there is a distinct difference between water beds and flotation beds. The Innerspace beds are made of vinyl not plastic, and come in a variety of sizes and design. They are also completely heated.

Another difference in flotation beds is that the bag does not give any support, only the water, Maxwell said. This simulates a state of semi-weightlessness. This concept is being tested in various hospitals to prevent sores on bed-ridden patients.

Research along this line was done by the Innerspace Medical Research Foundation headed by Dr. Irving London. The Foundation has also done comparison sleep studies of the flotation bed and a regular mattress. The results showed that, "a person fell asleep faster, slept better, and did not need as much sleep on the flotation bed," Dr. London said.

Innerspace was incorporated in 1969 and opened its first store in December of 1971. There are plans to expand the chain nation-wide.

Innerspace is open seven days a week, Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m., Saturday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Sundays noon to 5 p.m.

Pat McIntyre Edges Jim Hitt For Cajon Win

Lemon Grove and Spring Valley drivers continued to steal the show last Saturday night at Cajon Speedway, as Spring Valley's Pat McIntyre claimed the 30-lap stock car main event.

McIntyre, who was the 1972 stock car champion, edged Lemon Grove's Jim Hitt by a car length to score his second main event of the season and end Hitt's win streak at two.

The race was an exciting one from flag to flag, as McIntyre, starting on the outside of the first row, outbatted Hitt for the lead on the first lap. Hitt started on the inside of the first row.

Hitt chased McIntyre for the full 30 laps, but could never get in front of the Spring Valley driver.

In the points race, Hitt lost ground although finishing in second place.

Frontrunner John Dineen, of El Cajon, picked up 80 passing points in the race. Coupled with points for finishing fourth, that was enough to gain 35 points on second place Hitt, who earned 125 points for finishing second in the race but received no passing points.

McIntyre picked up 40 points on Hitt and five points on Dineen for winning the race, and is in good position to reclaim second place next week if he can beat Hitt again.

Both local drivers are expected to be on hand Saturday night for a special 60-lap main event. Qualifying is at 6:30 p.m., with the first race underway at 8 p.m.

Originally organized to support the State Water (Feather River) Project, the association is now working toward the balanced development of water resources and to improve the environment.

Ann Miller To Star in Next Off Broadway Show

Dancer-Singer-Actress Ann Miller is returning to the stage, after a years' absence, to star in Noel Cowards' "Blithe Spirit" at the Off Broadway Theatre, opening July 5 for a four-week engagement.

Miss Miller's last performance was last year in the Broadway revival "Anything Goes" at the St. Louis Municipal Opera when her near fatal stage accident landed her in the hospital with a concussion and damaged inner ear.

Ann Miller began her career when Hollywood and the movies were at their peak. Tap dancing "Legs" Miller was discovered by Lucille Ball at a San Francisco night club.

She starred at RKO in "Radio City Revels" and was an instant success. In 1939, Ann Miller went to Broadway where she was an enormous hit in "George White Scandals". She then went back to Hollywood and the wonderful world of movies where she appeared in 40 motion pictures, including "Easter Parade", "On The Town", "Kiss Me Kate" and "Hit the Deck".

There is a treat in store for San Diego audiences at the Off Broadway when Ann Miller appears as Elvira in "Blithe Spirit". The all-English supporting cast, with the exception of Lola Fisher, includes: Peter Church, Lucy Landau, Lois Battle, Diana Wyatt and Peter Murphy. Lola Fisher played the starring role of Lila Doolittle on Broadway and toured Europe, including Russia, in "My Fair Lady".

Premiers are July 3 and July 4. Opening night is July 5. Performances are scheduled Tuesdays thru Saturdays at 8:30 p.m. and at 7:30 p.m. on Sunday evenings. Matinees are 2 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays.

New Phase In Geothermal Energy Search

San Diego Gas & Electric Company has undertaken a new phase of research and development for using geothermal resources in the Imperial Valley to generate electricity.

Walter T. Zitlau, company president, said the second and latest step in the utility's continuing geothermal R & D program is a preliminary to start of construction of a $3 million dollar geothermal test facility near the Salton Sea later this year.

Zitlau said the company began testing equipment to the proposed plant site Wednesday to gather more detailed information about the effect of the geothermal brines on heat exchanger units similar to those that will be used in the test facility.

"We must have additional information in order to perfect, if possible, the design and operation of the test facility and the process to be used before we start construction," he said.

Action Service Corps Seeks New Recruits

The second anniversary of Action July 1, a federally-administered citizens service corps, will launch a three-week emphasis in San Diego County programs and kick-off a massive area search for 1,000 Peace Corps and VISTA applicants.

Designated as "21 Days of Action", the event is described by San Diego area manager Ralph S. Coleman as the first major effort by the seven Action agencies coordinated to draw community awareness to their 43 Southern California programs and the involvement activities available to volunteers of all ages.

Coleman said that Action was founded in 1971 as an "alliance of generations" and grew out of the idea of "helping people to help themselves." Composed of 46,000 Volunteers nationally representing every age and occupation, Action incorporates the Foster Grandparents Program which places men and women over 60 into contact with disadvantaged children, RSVP (Retired Senior Volunteer Program), SCORE (Service Corps of Retired Executives) volunteers counseling small business people, ACE (Active Corps of Executives) members volunteering time to counsel small businesses, UYA (University Year for Action) volunteers who are full-time college students receiving academic credits for their off-campus work with community service organizations, VISTA (Volunteers In Service To America) and the Peace Corps.

Coleman also reported a 24-hour Action Line will be in service during the three-week drive and he urged inquiries to call 293-5083 for personal contact with Action volunteers.

They will be supported by Pat White and William Parker.

Celebrating a happy marriage, the musical comedy "I Do! I Do!" begins on the wedding night of a young couple at the turn of the century. "I Do! I Do!" is based on the comedy "The Fourposter" by Jan deHartog. Dialogue and lyrics were written by Tom Jones with music by Harvey Schmidt. The team is also responsible for writing "The Fantasticks" and "110 in the Shade." H. L. Mark Dempsey and Pat White portray the married couple in "I Do! I Do!"

Draft Signing

"The Qs are the only team to have signed their number two draft choices (Bo Lamar and Tim Bassett) and while they are not planning on resting on their laurels with these two, General Manager Alex

C.V. OKs Sports World

The City of Chula Vista approved Dr. Leonard Bloom's Sports World development at a council meeting Tuesday night.

The $200 million project will be built at H st. and Interstate 805. The 1,400 acre spread will be the site of a 20,000 seat sports arena, a shopping center and residential development.

The Qs will probably play in the 3,200-seat Community Concourse next season.

A citizens group has announced plans to start a referendum to stop the project. A spokesman said his group would obtain the 3,100 signatures needed to place the matter before the voters. Bloom appeared undisturbed by that development.

Groza says, "...we are going to be very sure that any of our other draft selections want to seriously pursue a professional basketball career and not just make a fast buck. We are screening our draft choices to make sure that those we sign will fit into our plans for this team's future."
